Preface

I have always considered the Christian life to be a journey on which each of us walks on a path leading to a deeper understanding of the relationship we have with our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. The place I am at in my knowing Him today is not the same as it was ten years ago and that place differs from my understanding of twenty years ago. This, I believe, is as it should be; otherwise our relationship has grown stagnant.

In the past I have always avoided writing a book of this type due to the changing level of my knowledge of Him. It seemed unwise to write something that would be obsolete or incomplete in a few years and to have all of that printed material out there with no hope of "making corrections or updates" as spiritual growth takes place. All of this seems to be changing as I pass through the age of seventy here on earth. It seems as if it might now be the time to document some of where I am so that perhaps, in some small way, others may be assisted along on their individual journey.

It is under these circumstances that I produce this book. My goal is that you may be able to know Him with a fuller understanding through some of what I am about to write. Do not be fearful that you have to throw away some of what you think you have learned about Him in the past. You can trust the "Christ in you" to lead you into a deeper knowing of Him and who you are in Christ!

If the reader conducts an honest search of the Scriptures the writer believes that a change in thinking and a renewal of the mind (Romans 12:2) will occur resulting in a deeper understanding of what the Bible teaches about Christianity. Let us set aside our preconceived understandings and make a rigorous search of the Scriptures to see if the biblical understandings of this book are true or false and how the material might fit into your Christian journey.

Your Eternal Brother in Christ,
